

Experience

Is this real? Maybe a dream?

Or even a cartoon?

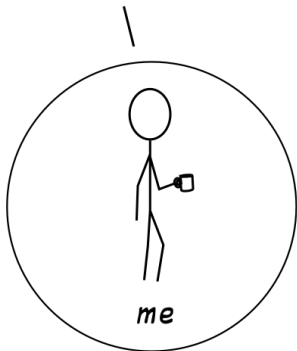

I don't know, but I can call it experience.

Experience can be split into two parts:

*1) The things I have control over
- this is me*

*2) The things I don't have control over
- this is the objective world*

the objective world (not me)

Both types can bring pleasure or suffering, but at least I can control what is me
