

Santa's existence

A human being is made of cells, but we still see it as a single creature, even though it can be many creature.

An ant-colony can also be seen as a single creature, where the ants are its tentacles. The ant-colony can eat, grow, adapt, and even reproduce, just like other creatures.

Santa can be like an ant-colony, but instead of ants, it is made of humans that keep on the Santa tradition.

Santa might not be human (nobody said he was), but he does have a human-like presence, which explains why he is changing Form all the time.

Merry Christmas Everyone
